

Student Success: Fall 2022

Instructional Delivery

For the 2022-2023 school year, ALL students of Dinwiddie County Public Schools (DCPS) have the option to receive in-person instruction, five days a week. Additionally, students approved for virtual learning will receive instruction via Virtual Virginia or the Edmentum learning platform. Students were approved for virtual instruction based on the following criteria: access to high-speed internet; documented medical need (student or household family member); performance over the last two years (virtual and in-person); availability of in-home family support; social-emotional needs of the student; and attendance for 2021-2022 school year.

4 Essential Learning Recovery Components

1

CURRICULUM

Teams have worked to ensure that ALL gaps in learning have been addressed through adjustments to the taught and tested curriculum. DCPS is committed to ensuring that every student reads on level by grade 3.

2

MULTI-TIERED SYSTEM OF SUPPORTS (MTSS)

MTSS is a systemic, continuous-improvement framework in which data-based problem solving and decision-making is utilized. MTSS is used to address the unique learning needs of ALL students. A Reading Specialist is now at every school.

SOCIAL EMOTIONAL LEARNING

School social workers and school counselors will continue to work together to address the developmental needs and mental health needs of all learners. PreK-12 teachers across the county will utilize Morning Meeting or Advisory to address social-emotional learning needs daily.

4

SCHOOL NUTRITION

For the 2022-2023 school year, all enrolled students will receive school meals at no cost. Many new menu items have been added to provide students more choices. The Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program will introduce elementary students to a variety of produce.
