What special talents or skills does your child have? _____

Give examples of behaviors that illustrate this: _____

Directions: Check the following items that best describe your child and make comments as necessary.

Behavior or Characteristics	Seldom Or Never	Occasionally	Frequently	Almost Always	Comments
Articulate – expresses ideas in great detail with an advanced vocabulary for age.
Sharp – learns material quickly and recalls it accurately.
Analytical – ability to break the whole picture into its parts, sees cause-effect relationships, and grasps underlying principles, enjoys solving puzzles.
Originality – consistently expresses unusual, clever, and unique responses or ideas, like to experiment and do things differently.
Curiosity – shows interest in a wide range of things, but may concentrate heavily on one.
Self-initiating – needs little help in knowing what to do; pursues individual interests; seeks own direction; willing to spend time beyond usual assignments or schedule, has collections.
Charismatic – has natural leadership ability among peers.
Self-assured – willing to take risks and be different from peers.
Elaborative – embellishes or expands upon ideas, questions, or solutions.
Imaginative – may be intuitive about something that has never happened to him/her; may be challenged by and appreciate complex or intricate problems or ideas.
Artistic – may show exceptional abilities in visual or performing arts.
Fluent – generates many responses to a given idea; suggests several directions and exhibits departures from the mainstream of thought in a classroom setting.
Focused – may be reluctant to move from one subject area to another.
Sensitive – has an advanced sense of justice, fairness, and global awareness.
Sense of Humor – sophisticated sense of humor; may be "class clown".
Procrastinator – procrastinates or may cry easily in frustration that their work cannot be perfect.
Absentminded – brilliant thinker, but absentminded about details or where their work might be found.
Independent – may prefer to work alone; resists cooperative learning.
